KOSÉ Co., Ltd. (Headquarters: Chuo-ku, Tokyo; President and CEO: Kazutoshi Kobayashi), which has a partnership agreement with Major League Baseball’s Los Angeles Dodgers (based in Los Angeles, California), will distribute trading cards featuring Shohei Ohtani, and other Dodgers striking the “DECORTÉ Pose.” The first 10,000 fans attending the Dodgers vs. Giants home game at Dodger Stadium on Sunday, September 21 (local time) will receive a complimentary set of three cards in a protective card sleeve.

Additionally, starting September, customers purchasing eligible products such as the Liposome series at any of the three official team stores inside Dodger Stadium will receive a DECORTÉ-exclusive novelty card featuring Shohei Ohtani (while supplies last).

KOSÉ signed a partnership agreement with the Dodgers in 2024 and sponsored the buses for the team’s 2024 World Series victory parade. This season, the "DECORTÉ pose" has become popular among Dodgers players, with Shohei Ohtani also striking the pose after hitting home runs, and it is now actively used as the team's celebratory pose to set the mood.

Amid these developments, this May KOSÉ and the Dodgers agreed extend their partnership contract through FY2029. As part of our medium- to long-term vision, “Vision for Lifelong Beauty Partner—Milestone 2030,” KOSÉ is pursuing initiatives to create new customer relationships under the theme of “3G”—Global, Gender, and Generation—working to engage with customers around the world, regardless of gender or age.

On the occasion of extending our contract with Dodgers, we plan to distribute cards inspired by the team’s celebration pose to further energize Ohtani and the entire team. Through this initiative, we hope not only to deliver smiles, energy, courage and hope to people around the world—regardless of gender or age—by showcasing their spirit, but also to foster a sense of unity with both players and fans as we continue to support the team.
